WHAT IS COLD BREW?

Cold brew is created by steeping medium-to-coarse ground coffee in room temperature water for 12 hours or longer and then filtering out the grounds for a clean cup without sediment. Unlike regular coffee, cold brew is never exposed to heat.

SLOW COFFEE

CHEMEX SMALL / LARGE 35 / 55

WHAT IS CHEMEX?

Chemex is a pour-over method, which means that the water passes through a bed of coffee and a filter, normally made out of paper. The Chemex will give you a remarkably clean cup of coffee. Chemex paper filters are heavier than other filters so they retain more of the suspended oils during the brewing process and solids cannot pass through the filter.

Chemex brewed coffee tastes better than many other coffeemakers because of the unique filter, all glass construction, and the unique shape of the device. Perfect for people who are looking for a smoother cup with less bitterness and don't mind the lack of body.
